

Hand Signals For Cyclists

Turning left or changing lanes to the left.

Turning right or changing lanes to the right.

Slowing down or stopping.

Old-school right turn signal.

It's a great idea to use hand signals to communicate to other people on streets and bike paths when you are turning or stopping. Always make sure you can control your bike first!